

Reflective Questions Children's Rights

What are you allowed to do? What are you not allowed to do? (think of rules, agreements, commandment boards)	What do you have to do? What happens if there are no rules? What happens if there are too many rules? (think of rules, agreements, obligations)
What rights do children in your country have? Do these also apply in different countries?	What should adults in your environment take care of? Why is this?
What should the government take care of? Who decides?	When were you very happy? Why were you happy? What do you need to be happy?
What is the difference between wanting and needing? Give some examples.	What is a basic need for you? Why is this a basic need?
Which rights do you think are fair and just for every child? Name a few.	We have to learn to get upset again, says Antony Lake of UNICEF. What do you think; would that help?
